

10 Easy Designer-Approved Tips to Transition Your Home for Fall

By ASHLEY CHALMERS | Updated on 09/01/21

 Emma Sims Hilditch

When it comes to seasonal transitions, it's easy to fall into the trap of buying new decor to spruce up your space. But along with just creating more stuff you need to store later, it gets expensive to shop seasonally.

In an effort to minimize spending, we turned to the experts to ask what small, cost-effective ways they suggest prepping your home for cooler days and cozier nights.

01 Add Layers of Autumnal Tones

 Etch Design Group

But for colors outside of the normal autumnal tones, Stephanie Lindsey of Etch Design Group suggests using pieces with “rich, luxe jewel tones. The colors engage the eye and give a subtle nod to the shades mimicked in the kaleidoscope of fall leaves.”