

Here Comes the Sun

Creating a modern solarium that daydreams are made of

The Challenge

We challenged Etch Design Group to source Austin shops and showrooms for a light-drenched sunroom perfect for lounging.

ACCENT TABLES

These solid Carrara marble tables by Angelo Mangiarotti are timeless and bring a grounding presence to whimsical furnishings. jeanmarcfray.com

ACCENT CHAIRS

I love the warm tone of these rattan chairs by Platt and Young for Driade, Italy, 1998. You can't have an indoor/outdoor space without a touch of rattan. therennerproject.com

VERSATILE SOFA

This sofa has a eucalyptus wood frame, just perfect for hours in the sun. I picked a comfortable cushion that is rather subdued in color in hopes of inviting the user to a calm place to relax. fourhands.com

▶ COFFEE TABLE

I picked this bottom-heavy coffee table to ground the space and give the user a comfortable surface to support all types of activities. I imagine a book, a few drinks, and a snack plate enveloping this tabletop on a regular basis. fourhands.com

▶ PILLOW FABRIC

I am constantly in awe of Supply Showroom's ability to source the most sweet, colorful, and one-of-a-kind patterns and artists. This pattern has a retro touch that evokes fun and nostalgia. supplyshowroom.com

▶ BAR CART

Who doesn't need a bright red lacquered tole and brass bar cart? Might I add that it's on a hydraulic system? I couldn't live without incorporating this fun storage option. jeanmarcfray.com

▶ BISTRO TABLE

Four Hands is an Austin staple. I think anyone can find value in functional, clean-lined, and accessible furnishings. The simplicity of this bistro table fits perfectly with a unique statement piece. fourhands.com

▶ STATEMENT RUG

I love the energy and spirit that Black Sheep Unique brings to their showroom. It's a company so true to what Austin is all about! It really shows through this funky pattern on a textural Moroccan rug. I just had to incorporate it. blacksheepunique.com
